

Compensation Hearing Application

Canada Energy Regulator (CER)

Please read carefully - Important Information to know in completing this form

This form and any future documents you file with the Commission, including any personal information, will appear in the CER's online public registry, and can be accessed and viewed by the public. Your contact information will be used by parties in the proceeding to contact you or serve documents on you. If you submit sensitive information, you may request the CER to treat the information as confidential. The CER will then decide if the interest in keeping the information confidential outweighs the interest in disclosure under subsection 60(1) of the CER Act. Generally, the CER has held that there is a public interest in an open and accessible process and that confidentiality orders should be the exception.

In a compensation hearing [commenced under subsection 327(1) of the CER Act] the Commission can order compensation to be paid, and issue any other directions with respect to pipelines and abandoned pipelines in relation to:

- (a) the acquisition, lease or taking of lands;
- (b) lands whose use is restricted by the operation of the Prescribed Area, whether or not the lands were acquired, leased or taken; and
- (c) (damages caused by the activities of the company to any person, provincial government, local authority and government or Indigenous governing body during their planning, construction, operation or abandonment.

This form can be completed electronically or you can print a copy and complete it legibly in writing. See Part K for instructions on how to file your completed form.

Please refer to the CER Guidance Regarding Compensation Disputes on the CER's website for further information about compensation hearings, including the factors the Commission will consider in making its determinations.
